Artistic Motion proudly invites you to join us on the summer dance experience of a lifetime, tentatively set for July 24 – August 3, 2012 (exact dates will hinge on airline ticket availability). We have partnered with Vahram Zaryan, a student of the late Marcel Marceau, and other artists, including dancers from the Paris Opera and The Maurice Bejard Company, to offer a 10 day intensive workshop for intermediate and advanced American dance students with world renowned dance instructors in Paris, France.

The purpose of this exclusive ten day intensive for dancers in Paris is to enrich the technique of the serious dancer ages 10 to Adult while exposing him or her to Parisian master teachers and the French culture. Dancers will be divided by age and level to appropriate classes. Auditions will be held on Sunday, February 19, 2012, in our studio from 1:00 – 4:00 pm. Interested dancers need to be prepared for auditions in Ballet, Modern, and Contemporary Lyrical. Appropriate dance attire for auditions is required. Please bring a short bio and head shot with you to the audition.

Our main objectives are to accomplish the following to the highest degree possible:

- To provide American dance students and teachers with international dance training
- To introduce our dancers to the French culture and history
- To provide an exciting vacation experience for friends, siblings, and parents joining us. Parents and other relatives of the dancers will be able to experience Paris through guided tours while the dancers are in rehearsal as well as join the entire party in the afternoons for meals and excursions.

On the following pages you will find:

- Tour Information: What's Included
- Tentative Itinerary
- Participant Application

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions. We personally would like to thank you for your interest and look forward to traveling and dancing with you in Paris!

Sincerely,

Natalya Davison
